The U.S. administration describes the press as the opposition party and an enemy of the people. Today, they have made their rhetoric a reality. Now their paranoia is both policy and law.

"While disappointing, we can still raise issues as the government continues to abuse the grand jury process. I don't have anything to contribute to this, or any other grand jury. While I miss home, they can continue to hold me in jail, with all the harmful consequences that brings. I will not give up. Thank you all so very much for your love and solidarity through letters and contributions."

* Chelsea's support committee demands that Chelsea be immediately released from "administrative segregation" (solitary confinement)

Statement: xychelsea.is/?page_id=28

From: Inmate Handbook for the William G. Truesdale Adult Detention Center issued by the Alexandria Sheriff's Office, July 2017. (Page 9):

In Administrative Segregation, you will be housed in your cell for a maximum of 22 hours per day. You will receive breaks according to an established break schedule. You will use your break — usually two hours long — to make personal phone calls and attend to your hygiene needs.

From: Preface by Juan E Mendez, UN Special Rapporteur on Torture (Spanish Edition, 2014) to a Sourcebook on Solitary Confinement by Sharon Shalev (page 1)

"..I have defined solitary confinement on the basis of the Istanbul Statement on the Use and Effects of Solitary Confinement, as the physical and social isolation of individuals who are confined to their cells for 22 to 24 hours a day. Although the form of this practice and the name given to it may vary, its overriding characteristic is the absence of meaningful human contact by the isolated person with other persons or with the world outside his or her cell."

STATEMENT: Fight for the Future calls for the immediate release of whistleblower Chelsea Manning, who has been jailed for mounting a principled opposition to testifying before a secretive Grand Jury fightforthefttr.org/news/2019-03-0...

Whistleblower and human rights advocate Chelsea back in prison for mounting a principled opposition to testifying before a secretive Grand Jury. Digital rights group Fight for the Future, which led many campaigns demanding her release from prison, issued a statement, which can be attributed to Deputy Director (she/her):

"Chelsea Manning is a brave, kind, and principled person who has been immensely at the hands of the US government simply for standing up for human rights. We unequivocally condemn the government for continuing to stand on her convictions and mounting a principled opposition to testifying before a Grand Jury.

Grand Juries have frequently been used as secretive entrapment devices. There is a long and important history of government overreach. Chelsea is one of the most principled activists. Punishing her with more prison time is not going to solve the problem.

I will not comply with this, or any other grand jury. Imprisoning me for my refusal to answer questions only subjects me to additional punishment for my repeatedly-stated ethical objections to the grand jury system.

The grand jury's questions pertained to disclosures from nine years ago, and took place six years after an in-depth computer forensics case, in which I testified for almost a full day about these events. I stand by my previous public testimony.

I will not participate in a secret process that I morally object to, particularly one that has been historically used to entrap and persecute activists for protected political speech.

tomorrow i'm facing a sealed contempt hearing for refusing to testify at a secret grand jury over my 2010 disclosures statement:

"On Friday, I will return to federal court in Alexandria, Virginia for a closed contempt hearing. A judge will consider the legal grounds for my refusal to answer questions in front of a grand jury. The court may find me in contempt, and order me to jail.

"Yesterday, I appeared before a secret grand jury after being given immunity for my testimony. All of the substantive questions pertained to my disclosures of information to the public in 2010—answers I provided in extensive testimony, during my court-martial in 2013. I responded to each question with the following statement: 'I object to the question and refuse to answer on the grounds that the question is in violation of my First, Fourth, and Sixth Amendment, and other statutory rights.'

"In solidarity with many activists facing the odds, I will stand by my principles. I will exhaust every legal remedy available. My legal team continues to challenge the secrecy of these proceedings, and I am prepared to face the consequences of my refusal."
